

State Real Estate Assn. President to Speak Here

Dwindling of property owner's rights and the spiraling of taxes affecting real estate are of great concern to realtors throughout California and will be the topic of a speech presented by L. N. Wilson of Fresno before local realtors on Friday.

Wilson, according to Ken Peters, president of the Torrance-Lomita Realtors, is traveling throughout the state of California and has made several eastern visits as president of the California Real Estate Assn. to determine current real estate business trends and to study various tax problems.

AS WILSON has expressed concern that property owners are losing their freedom and the right to control the property they own, it is expected he will present to the association members in this area a recommendation encouraging a revitalization of the property owners interest in legislation. Legislative problems affecting real estate now under consideration by the state legislature will also be discussed in his talk.

The meeting will be held at the Torrance-Lomita Board, 22833 S. Arlington, is open to all members of the real estate boards in this area and their guests.

Fencing Program Under Way

Eight qualified high school boys and seven high school girls will be needed by November to compete in area-wide fencing championships, according to Lyle "Jeep" LaMont, fencing instructor.

Sponsored by the Torrance Recreation Department, LaMont is conducting classes at North High School gymnasium

Lodge Honors James West With Program

Torrance Moose Lodge 785 joined with other lodges of the South Central District of the California Moose Assn. to honor the western states regional director, James B. West, in ceremonies held recently at the Torrance Moose Home, 1744 Carson St.

The occasion was the awarding of the James B. West trophy to the lodge with the most new candidates for enrollment into the family fraternity.

Santa Ana Lodge was the winner of the revolving trophy with 34 candidates in the class of new Moose members. There was a total of 66 candidates enrolled. Torrance Moose Lodge has displayed the beautiful 32 inch trophy in their Moose Home since they won it at a similar ceremony in Santa Ana, last August. As host lodge they were not eligible to compete for the trophy this time.

The activity was arranged by James McCune, past governor of Torrance Moose Lodge and district membership chairman, working with the officers of the local Moose unit headed by Governor Ross Britt.
